WATER REUSE SYSTEMS

HARNESSING THE POWER OF WATER RECLAMATION

Aquanomix Water Reuse Systems are engineered to revolutionize the way we utilize water. Our state-of-the-art treatment skids are designed to filter and disinfect various water sources, including harvested rainwater, greywater, foundation, storm, and process water, for reuse in a variety of applications.

Advanced Treatment Skids

Our treatment skids are meticulously engineered and constructed to meet your project's specific requirements. They are skid-mounted, pre-wired, pre-piped, and include all necessary components.

We understand that each project is unique, which is why our water filtration and disinfection techniques can be tailored to your specific needs. Our experts will work closely with you to develop a customized system that meets your requirements. We include system options such as cisterns, booster pumps, water quality sensors, and control system upgrades.

Advanced Controls System

Aquanomix systems come equipped with an advanced controls system that provides real-time monitoring, diagnostics, and trending. With a programmable touchscreen interface and remote access capabilities, you can easily manage and monitor the system's performance from anywhere via an internet connection. Integration with existing building management systems uses industry standard protocols, ensuring efficient operation and easy oversight.

Proven Results

Our water reclamation and reuse systems have a track record of success. They are capable of processing water for non-potable applications such as cooling towers, toilets, and irrigation. By utilizing environmentally-sensitive technologies, including ultraviolet water disinfection and filtration, we ensure the delivery of water that meets the required quality standards for each specific application.
